Eric Tirschwell

Eric Tirschwell is Executive Director and Chief Litigation Counsel at Everytown Law, the litigation arm of Everytown for Gun Safety. Everytown is the nation's largest gun violence prevention organization. Eric brings over 30 years of litigation and trial experience to his work overseeing Everytown Law's docket. Under his leadership, the team has won major victories in cases against firearms manufacturers, distributors, and retailers in courts across the country. The team has also successfully helped defend many state and local gun safety laws against Second Amendment and preemption challenges. Eric's prior litigation experience includes handling criminal cases as a federal prosecutor in the U.S. Attorney's Office for the Eastern District of New York and litigating complex civil, criminal, and constitutional matters for over a decade as a litigation partner and co-Chair of the White Collar Crime and Government Investigations Group at a major New York City law firm. Eric and his colleagues at Everytown Law are co-counsel for the City of Chicago in its first-of-its-kind civil lawsuit against Glock relating to the unique ease of convertibility of its pistols into machine guns.
